Russo Development, Cervalis Finalize Long Term Lease Deal By Betsy Kraat

CHATHAM—Russo Development, LLC and Cervalis, LLC have announced a long-term lease for a new, 148,191 sf data center facility in northern New Jersey.

The facility will have over 50,000 sf of data center area with the balance of the space used for support equipment, disaster recovery and general offices.

This lease represents Cervalis' first facility in New Jersey, giving the company a full-service presence in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. With this new location, Cervalis now occupies more than 280,000 sf of space for its data centers and disaster recovery centers in the tri-state area. The facility will be Russo Development's sixth data center increasing their portfolio of mission critical facilities in New Jersey to over 1.4 million sf.
